Worksafe BC holds information session on infectious disease in high-risk communities

July 21, 2008

WorkSafeBC is hosting a half-day information session Tuesday, October 14 for social service and community care employers and workers. The focus will be on current and emerging trends in infectious diseases, including MRSA and TB, in high-risk communities. Registration is open, and not restricted to employers and workers in social services and community care.

The session will be held Tuesday, October 14, from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. in the Alice MacKay room at the Vancouver Public Library, 350 West Georgia, Vancouver, B.C. The session is free, but registration is required. A continental breakfast will be provided.

Deadline for registration is Monday, October 6. When registering, please provide the participants name, organization, and email address. You can register by contacting Heather Middleton at:
