Survey on precarious work in the community social services sector

Are you affected by precarious work – employment that is insecure, unprotected, lacking in regular work and/or benefits, and that cannot support a family?

Your union – Health Sciences Association of BC (HSA) -- , the Community Social Services Bargaining Association (CSSBA), and the Community Social Services Employers' Association (CSSEA) are working together to study the extent of precarious work in your sector.

See the link for more information about the survey, which will launch on November 14.
